Many Attend Summer School

Geary E. Garrett, Mildred G. Brown and William Vawter, Jr., are representatives of Jackson county at the summer school of the University of Oregon. Mr. Garrett's course includes history and English literature. Mildred G. Brown is taking work in Spanish, psychology and education. Mr. Vawter's work is in history, English literature and music.

Among the other Jackson county students at the summer school is G. W. Milam.

The summer school this year is larger than ever before, and the student body is remarkable in several respects. In the first place, there are half again as many men as women. This is very unusual in summer schools, which are, as a general thing, composed to a very large extent of women school teachers. The men at the Oregon summer school this year are, many of them, in the prime of life. According to Dr. Schafer, director of the school, their average age is probably thirty years or more. They include numerous county and city superintendents and high school and consolidated school principals who are working for higher degrees and to advance themselves in their profession.
